—About three o'clock yesterday morning, Officers Couts and Somers discovered two thieves in Mr. Milier's yard, on Linden street, between Lauderdale and Orleans. The officers had been on the lookout for the thieves, who offered some resistance, one of them striking Officer Couts over the head with a pistol. The burglars were quickly disarmed and conducted to the Causey street stationhouse, by the officers, who also secured the weapons. The burglars had effected an entrance into Mr. Miller's residence, and opened several drawers. The prompt vigilance of the officers prevented the burglars from carrying of articles of value which they were trying to steal.

The fastest time ever made on any railroad in America is alleged to be that made by the "Richelieu Laghming Train," as it has been styled, conveying Mr. Lawrence Barrett from Mobile to New Orleans, a distance of one hundred and forty-one miles, in one hundred and sixty-eight minutes. The Lawrence Barrett company, including Miss Louisa Hawthorne, accompanied also by Mr. Alexander Fitzgerald, of the St. Charles Theater, and Mr. T. W. The buildings are mostly of the olden style, and the stores along the principal thoroughfares are frightfully engumbered with swinging signs and worden sheds in lieu of swinging signs and wooden sheds, in lieu of awnings. In the private part of the city may be seen some very handsome residences, with large and beautifully ornamented yards and flower-gardens; also some old-fashioned mansons, built in the days of the "old constitution," very interesting to behold. In the heart of the city is Jackson para, containing beautiful walks, beds of flowers, budding trees merry binds and frisky soulirels (rather beautiful walks, beds of flowers, budding trees, merry birds, and frisky squirrels (rather unusnal in January even he e). "IT SAVED my life!" What a glad cry is this! We do not know of an expression other than this that could give more pleasure to the writer of this article, or that could gratity in a greater degree the pride of the manufacturers of Mansield's Hungarian Balsam of Life. And this grateful cry they have heard many, many times. We have known cases of consumption, pronounced hopeless by physicians, who have recovered by the use of this great remedy. Cases of asthma that had reduced the patient to a state of extreme prostration and debility, have been frequently cured by it; and chronic coughs and coids that bade fair to lead directly to the grave have been repeatedly vanquished by a single bottle of this medicine. M'CARTHY'S CAPTURE.

What Sheriff Czanne, of Panola County, Mississippi, Has to Say about the Affair.

How a Telegram was Written, and How Sent on the Wires-The Telegraph

Cömpany to Answer. What the Appeal's Special Correspondent Knows of Sheriff Ozanne, and His Connection with the Arrest.

The following statement was sent the APPEAL by telegraph last night, which we give space to in justice to Sheriff Ozanne, who was placed in rather an unenviable position by, as he alleges, the telegraph company .-

BARDIS, MISS., February 8, 1874.

EDITORS APPEAL—Please Insert the following eard of correction of Goolsby, the captor of McCarthy, as published in your issue of patentary. of McCarthy, as published in your issue of yestenday:
On Thursday evening last I received a telegram from Conductor R. M. Leech, stating that a man answering McCarthy's description imped off his train at this place, requesting me to get a description from M. Burke, superintendent of the Mississippi and Tennessee allowed believing the reward to be fitme to get a description from al. Buffe, superintendent of the Mississippi and Tennessee railroad, believing the reward to be fitteen hundred deliars, etc. On receiving the description from Colonel Burke, I began the search in town. Learning that a man answering the description had been seen in Blann's saioon. I at once communicated with Captain Polk, mayor of Sardis, and he kindiy joined me in the search. Captain Polk, with Mr. J. T. Goolsby, who is acting nigot-watchman of the Jail, went down on the night-train as far as Jénes's mill, and walked back, making no descovery. I requested Mr. Goolsby to start out early in the morning in search, giving him the directions, and furnishing him with the identical telegram from Colonei Burke giving the description, and started two other men at the same time in opposite directions. About twelve o'clock Friday, I received the following dispatch:

Cono, February 6th.

Como, February 6th. o Mr. Ozanne, Sheriff, Sardis: I have Jack McCarthy. Meet me at the J.T. GOOLSBY.

I immediately left for Como on the north-I immediately left for Como on the north-bound freight train. Arriving at Como I was astonished to learn that Goolsby had left with McCarthy for Memphis, by advice of thought-less friends, and without the consent of the prisoner. Supposing Goolsby to be ignorant of the laws, I, thinking him acting hastily in the matter, at once telegraphed him to return with the prisoner, to be held at Sardis jall, to be subject to the proper authority. The object was by no means to prevent the prisoner from going to Memphis, which would have been clearly understood by the following telegram I sent Goolsby: AS SENT.

Como, February 6th.
To J. T. Goolsby, Born Lake:
Hold McCarthy by all means. Deliver him to nobody without a requisition from the Governor of Tennessee, indorsed by the Governor of Mississippi. M. OZANNE, Sheriff. AS DELIVERED by the Western Union telegraph company to Mr. Goolsby: Сомо, Miss., February б, To J. T. Goolsby, Horn Lake: Hold McCarty by all means. Deliver him to nobody with a requisition from the gover-nor of Tennessec. U. OZANNE.

Paid.

The telegraph company will be held for the mistake in the above dispatch. Nor did I want to secure for myself the reward, I would want to secure for myself the reward. I would not have accepted one cent beyond my actual expenses in the effort to secure his arrest, for I told Goolsby and others, on starting, that the man that made the arrest should have every cent of the fifteen hundred dollars, and after Goolsby had made the arrest I publicly asserted that Goolsby had made the reward. My object was also to prevent the railroad company from being blackmailed in the matter. Whatever the people of this county can do for Memphis and her citizens, through her officers, they are ever ready to do it. Very respectfully, Sheriff Panola County.

FROM OUR SARDIS CORRESPONDENT Special to the Appeal. SARDIS, February 9 .- We exceedingly egret the tone expressed in the account of our townsman, Mr. Goolsby, in the McCarthy our townsman, Mr. Goolsby, in the McCarthy case. It is calculated to make it appear, to many not knowing Judge Ozanne to be a straight-torward and faithful servant of the law, that he wanted to control or secure the reward. Such an idea never entered Judge Ozanne's head, as he had never claimed it; always said it should go to the man making the arrest. The great mistake was caused by the following error in Ozanne's message to Goolsby, when Goolsby received it, as follows: "Deliver him to nobody with a requisition from the Governor of Tennessee," which there would be no sense in. It was sent thus: "Deliver him to nobody without a requisition from the governor of Tennessee," til night, and are shopping extensively, in gleeful anticipation of the great 'gaia day' and masquerade night. The ladies of Memphis are hard to beat, both in beauty and line dressing."

—The following extracts are from a New Year's article of Dr. Bowling, in the Nashville Journal of Medicine and Surgery: "Tennessee must forever be the garden of the regenerated south, and its classical capital—the city of universities—the site of the great medical school of the new creation. This blessed year, and the next hundred years, what have they in store for that bundle of restless and antagonistic activities yelept man, present and to come? Graves, graves, graves; that is the chief end of man. PRESIDENT C. W. GOYER, of the PRESIDENT C. W. GOYER, Of the Leath orphan asylum, received ten dollars, shrough Messrs. Edmonds, Pettigrew & Co., from Mr. John K. Childrey, of Richmond, Virginia, for the benefit of the orphans of Memphis, being the proceeds of a fair held by Mr. Childrey's two little daughters, Misses Katie and Maggie, for that purpose. In acknowledging the receipt of this sacred fund, President Goyer replied: "This exertion on the part of these dear children is deserving of much praise, and through you allow me to nuch praise, and through you allow me to eturn the thanks of the officers of the asyum and of the orphans, with the prayer that they may receive the abundant blessings of Providence in this life and in that which is to

THE friends in this city of Rev. W. C. Gray, rector of St. James's parish in Bolivar, will be pained to learn of the death of his estimable lady, which occurred on the first instant. In announcing the sad event, the Bulletin says: "The death of this estimable lady was not unexpected. For months her friends had watched with anxiety the inroads of disease myon a constitution naturally delifriends had watched with anxiety the inroaus of disease upon a constitution naturally delicate. She met death with the humble resignation of a christian. She died as "one who wraps the gentle drapery of his couch about him, and lies down to pleasant dreams." Thus has passed from earth to heaven a devoted wife and mother, an affectionate sister, a conditing friend whose impulses in life were as while and mother, an anectonate sizer, a con-fiding friend, whose impulses in life were as pure as the delicate flowers that bedecked her coffin in death, and whose faith in the Re-deemer is fittingly symbolized by the cross of evergreens laid on her grave."

UNDER the head "Jeff Davis to Fight a Duel," we find the following in the Shreve-port (La.) Times: "Under this heading the St. Louis Times contains a special from Wash-ington to the effect that the probabilities of a duel between Ex-President Davis and Henry S. AMUSEMENTS.

The Theater. The Chapman Sisters, three in number, with an admirably-selected burlesque company, will commence a brief season at the theater this evening. This is the first visit of the troupe to Memphis, and they are almost unknown to the theater-goers of the city. They come, however, heralded with a splendid regutation from nearly sill the large cities of the country, where, for the past few years, they have played very successful engagements and received the warmest encominums from the most experienced musical and dramatic critics. The leading members of the company are reported to be excellent singers, dancers and burlesque performers. The hill of fare for to-night embraces the burlesque opera of Don Giovanni and the amusing commediate of Gertrude; or, The Little Treasure. The house will doubtless be crowded. The Chapman Sisters, three in num-Duprez & Benedict's Minstrels. Our citizens will have a rare treat at the Grand Operahouse to-night, upon the appearance of the renowned Duprez & Benedict minstrel troupe, which offers more attractions, and affords the most varied entertainment, of any one of its kind that has ever appeared in Memphis. Their former exhibitions here never ialied to draw crowded houses, and their present engagement will be sustained in the Same generous manner. In delineating the Ethiopian character, these minstrels are said to be natural and faithful, inducing laughter and affording murth to everyone present. Their songs, jokes and wit are original and fresh, while the general make-up of the costumes is so familiar that all recognize in it features characterizing the customs and habits of the colored man as he was in aste believe days. The reputation of Duprez & Benedict's ministrels is not unmerited, and we commend their entertainments to the public. Our citizens will have a rare treat at ments to the public.

The following letter was received by Mad-time O'Byrne last evening, at her residence, no. 65 Madison street, after being circulated in copies throughout the city. It reads as fol-MEMPHIS, TENN., February 8, 1874.

Mrs. N. A. O'Byrne:

Madame—We, the undersigned, citizens of Memphis, fully appreciate your self-sacrificing efforts in the cause of two charities of our city, and deem it to be only a simple act of justice on our part to tender you a benefit, which we hope will prove to be a substantial one in your interest. We are aware that you have, upon two occasions, given your time and brilliant talents, as we nave remarked, for two charities. Now, we trust the people of Memphis will show their appreciation of your good and disinterested exertious, and we respectfully ask you to name an evening MEMPHIS, TENN., February 6, 1874.

we respectfully ask you to name an evenin at your convenience when we shall have th leasure of again hearing your accomplished andering of the poets. We are, madame respectfully, GENTLEMEN-If I were to return you my cordial thanks in the usual stereotyped fashion, I should commence by saying, "Thank you." But it seems to me on the present occasion I have a greater reason to be thankful, when I take into consideration the fact that many of the names of the gentlemen who have signed this call to me differ from me in nationality and language. I hope that every American and every foreign-born citizen will take the same kind interest in my success as the German gentlemen of this city success as the German gentlemen of this city have evidently manifested. With your kind permission, I shall name Friday evening next, at the Memphis club hall, in this city, at half-past seven o'clock. I am, gentlemen, your obedient servant, ROSE A. O'BYRNE.
